Do you prefer to eat ready-made food, or to cook at home? Why?

In my opinion it's better the food that you prepare at home for many reasons.

First of all, fast food is not healthy, so it's not a good way of life eating fast food very often. Secondly, when you prepare your food you know all the ingredients that you use, so it can be more natural and healthier. However, it is true the fact that fast food is tasty, due to that reason we can be tempted. Finally, home made food is food made with love.

To sum up, going to fast food restaurants should be something that we rarely do, because it can affect our health.
